

Buchanans Dictionary of Quotations for Right-Minded People

Buchanans Dictionary of Quotations for Right-minded People has been edited by a writer in the USFR, the Union of Socialist Feminist Republics (1997), formerly the United Kingdom. The book is for people who are tired of living in a country run in accordance with socialist, feminist, and politically correct principles. Its for right-minded people seeking quotations to provide inspiration, insight and amusement. Sample quotations include: The inherent vice of capitalism is the unequal sharing of blessings. The inherent virtue of socialism is the equal sharing of misery. Sir Winston Churchill (1874-1965)

John Prescott: Bear in mind that its something like 70 to 80 per cent of the actual demand are single-parent households or single youngsters or people who are living in a single house - can we do that again? People who are living in a single house - can we do that again? I made that crap. Nick Robinson: We are actually live at the moment BBC interview, 7 March 2000 All that is necessary for the triumph of evil women is that good men do nothing. on The Rt Hon Harriet Harman MP, Deputy Leader of the Labour Party, a politically correct feminist socialist politician with hauntingly beautiful eyes Good Morning Britain, this is your wake-up call (2010) Mike Buchanan (1957-) The Liberal Democrats are not just empty. They are a void within a vacuum, surrounded by a large inanition. Boris Johnson (1964-) It is never difficult to distinguish between a Scotsman with a grievance and a ray of sunshine. Blandings Castle and Elsewhere (1935) P. G. Wodehouse (1881-1975) I dont want to get to a position when we have women in senior roles because theyre women, we want to have women because they are able and as well equipped as men and sometimes better. Margaret Thatcher (1925-) Why, oh why, do we have taxes, huh? Just so we can have bloody parking restrictions, and bloody ugly traffic wardens, and bollocky pedestrian bloody crossings! Why not just have a Stupidity Tax? Just tax stupid people! Absolutely Fabulous(1992-6, 2001-4) Edina Monsoon (Jennifer Saunders) Being politically correct means always having to say you're sorry. Charles Osgood (1933-) Not to be a socialist at twenty is proof of want of heart; to be one at thirty is proof of want of head. Georges Clemenceau (1841-1929) The land of my fathers. My fathers can have it. on Wales Adam (1953) Dylan Thomas (1914-1953)
