

THE COUNTY CATALOGUE OF ENGLISH NUMBERED POSTMARKS 1844-1906

Although there can be few, if any, collectors of English stamps or postal history who don't recognise these postmarks this long running series was regarded as difficult to collect in any structured way. County collectors wanted to be able to see at a glance what markings were allocated to the post offices in their chosen area while more general collectors wanted a straightforward alpha-numeric list that they could take with them to stamp fairs. This new book solves both problems since it contains a list of all the markings in order plus a second version arranged in county order. Electronic rather than old fashioned paper-based publishing makes accessing the information far more user friendly.
